Since 2007, Artis has hosted nearly 100 leading international museum directors, curators, writers and art professionals on our signature weeklong cultural research trips to Israel. This semi-annual program provides participants with an unparalleled opportunity to engage with the Israeli art community, explore historical and sociopolitical developments, delve into the contemporary context in which artistic production is taking place, and ultimately create a platform for projects and initiatives to emerge. Our trips have resulted in the inclusion of numerous Israeli artists in solo and group exhibitions at the Museum of Modern Art and MoMA PS1; the Institute of Contemporary Art, Philadelphia; the International Center of Photography; the Neuberger Museum of Art; Art in General and Participant, Inc.; articles in ArtAsiaPacific, Artforum, ArtReview, and Frieze; acquisitions at the Hammer Museum, the Carnegie Museum of Art, and the Des Moines Art Center; residencies, fellowships, exchanges and much more. Learn more and apply for our October 2013 trip.

Our tenth research trip took place between January 24 and 30, 2013, with an outstanding group of curators and writers from the Stedelijk Museum, Witte de With, New Museum of Contemporary Art, Whitney Museum of American Art, Miami Art Museum and more. View photos from our past trips, a list of our alumni, and a sample itinerary.

About Artis

Artis is an independent nonprofit organization that broadens awareness and understanding of contemporary art from Israel. We advance opportunities for cultural dialogue through artist commissions, lectures and events; exhibition and professional development grants; research trips to Israel for arts professionals and collectors; professional development initiatives; and our online resource, www.artiscontemporary.org. Recognizing the complexity of national identity, our programs support outstanding and diverse artists who have lived or worked in Israel. We are driven by the power of art to foster cultural dialogue, inspire individuals, and mobilize social change. Founded in 2004, Artis is a 501(c)(3) nonprofit based in New York with activities in Los Angeles and Tel Aviv.
